

Contents

---

Articles

- 6–20 Possibilities, benefits and limitations of embedding technology enhanced and remote teaching and learning in compulsory education – And not just because of COVID-19
Don Passey
- 21–40 The use of the Interactive Whiteboard within early years practice: Lived experiences of kindergarten educators in Malta
Rose-Anne Camilleri
- 41–56 How can the Charter for 21st century literacies support technology-mediated teaching and learning?
Omar Seguna
- 57–80 The use of robotics embedded in playful learning scenarios in secondary schools: Teachers' and students' perspectives
Natalie Lombardi Calleja and Roberta Trapani Maggi
- 81–99 Space, time and concentration in online teaching and learning
Viviana Premazzi and Eliana Zuliani Queiroz
- 100–122 Understanding teacher learning in professional learning networks (PLNs): The emergence of lived learning experiences
Xiong Wang
- 123–141 The innovative teachers training for chemistry teaching through digital technologies
Aparecida de Fátima Andrade da Silva
- 142–166 Formative assessment in online teaching and learning during the first COVID-19 Malta lockdown – Educators' voices, types of practices and users
Doreen Said Pace

---

Students' and parents' perspectives on emergency e-learning in kindergarten and compulsory education Jeannine Vassallo, Gary Lee Doublet Meagher, Nadine Zammit, Louis Grech, Elizabeth Refalo and Ethan James German	167-196
Adolescent exploration of identities in 'third space': Addressing holistic education and well-being through blended learning embedded in reflexivity Edward Wright	197-214
Students' preparedness for distance learning – Gaps identified by MCAST educators Christine Muscat	215-235
Student readiness: Training and re-training in online higher education Simon Caruana	236-254
Converting a pandemic into educational opportunities: Lessons yielded from college students' experiences during the first months of the COVID-19 lockdown Sharon Rolé and Suzanne Gatt	255-273
Digital adult education: The impact of transitioning from in-class to emergency remote learning Jeannine Vassallo, Nadine Zammit, Mahira Spiteri and Gary Lee Doublet Meagher	274-294